MCHS goes virtual due to staffing issues

COVID-19 numbers show improvement

BY COURIER STAFF REPORT

Madison Consolidate Schools announced last week that due to COVID-related staffing issues at the high school, students there have shifted to virtual learning through Jan. 29.

The move, described as a staffing issue, was effective Friday and does not impact extracurricular activities and athletics or the E.O. Muncie Junior/Senior High School, which is located in a separate building.

The shift to online learning will follow the pre-established red/white virtual calendar, which designates which classroom periods are taught on alternating days.

Meanwhile, Jefferson County's COVID-19 infection rate on Jan. 24 remained in the "orange" category for a fourth consecutive day, moving the county closer to being upgraded from the most highly infected "red" category overall to orange. A county must show improved test results for at least two weeks before being officially assigned to the better category.

Jefferson County had 15 new cases of COVID-19, increasing the overall number to 2,662. So far 13,735 residents have been tested and the seven-day positivity percentage is currently 14.4% and the unique positivity rating is 23.6%. A total of 38 deaths have been attributed to the virus pandemic locally.

Overall the state reported 12 new deaths at 2,210 new positive cases. So far there have been 613,228 positive cases overall and 9,352 deaths.

At last report, about 1,400 local residents have received at least the first of two doses of the COVID vaccine and appointments for the vaccination are being taken by the Jefferson County Health Department for the week of Feb. 1, for residents age 70 and older, first responders and health care employees. Appointments must be scheduled by visiting www.ourshot.in.gov or calling 2-1-1.

BUCKET BOYS

David Campbell

Madison boys basketball celebrates Friday after defeating Southwestern 61-49 in the virus-delayed Turkey Shootout rivalry at Salm Gym and winning the Old Oaken Bucket for the first time since 2016. The Cubs now lead the Turkey Shootout series 41-13 and the overall Southwestern vs. Madison series 59-21. For additional coverage, see sports on page A3.

Crash causes hourslong power outage

MPD investigate hateful messages, 'displaced' patrol car

BY COURIER STAFF REPORT

Although the driver escaped injury, Friday's single-vehicle wreck on State Road 56 in Hanover knocked out power to about 2,000 Duke Energy customers in Hanover and on Madison's hilltop as workers spent hours replacing a broken utility pole and repairing damaged equipment.

The accident was reported at 11:55 a.m. when a vehicle left the roadway, rolled and struck a wooden utility pole, breaking it in two and leaving a section of the pole hanging from power lines high above State Road 56.

"The driver walked away but utility workers were hours putting everything back together," Chief Deputy Joshua Taylor of the Jefferson County Sheriff's Department said. "They were at the scene until almost midnight and the way the power grid is wired it caused a surge that knocked out power to a lot of homes and businesses. Some people also said it fried their electrical appliances."

Taylor was unable to release the name of the driver pending completion of the investigation.

The crash was just one of several over the weekend including a vehicle that slide off Thompson and Polk roads at 4 a.m. Saturday and a couple of others that slide off roads during Sunday's freezing rain. There were no injuries in each incident.

The broken section of a utility pole hangs from power lines over a portion of State Road 56 in Hanover on Friday.

Madison Police Chief John Wallace said roads were slick in Madison for a period on Sunday but Street Department crews were quick to respond and there were no accidents.

Elsewhere, police in Carrollton, Kentucky, and Switzerland County, Indiana, investigated complaints that a person in a mini-van was distributing Ziplock bags containing messages of a hateful nature on Saturday.

Switzerland County Sheriff Brian Morton said a 59-year-old male from the Chicago area was identified by his deputies and stopped near East Enterprise distributing the messages in driveways and some mailboxes. He thanked local residents for the tips, videos and photos they provide to help his officers locate the man and said the county attorney is being consulted on what laws were violated and what charges can be filed.

The information was also shared with police in Carrollton, Kentucky, where Police Chief Michael Willhoite said the county attorney for Carroll County also is being consulted to determine what laws were broken there by distribution of the offensive material and what charges can be filed.

"We take this matter seriously and ask those with any information or tips to please contact us," the department said in a release.

Meanwhile, Wallace said his department is conducting an administrative investigation related to the "displacement" of a Madison patrol vehicle in the early morning hours of Wednesday, Jan. 20. Wallace said the vehicle was not stolen, as some rumors have indicated, but the officer whom the vehicle was assigned "misplaced it" before the vehicle was relocated a short time later.

Wallace declined to elaborate on the incident other than to say the case is being investigated, the vehicle was "locked up" at all times and that the "situation is being handled administratively" and "there will be ramifications."

Hanover to consider adding building inspector

BY BOB DEMAREE

The possibility of adding a Building Permits, Zoning and Nuisance Officer for the Town of Hanover was proposed by Clerk-Treasurer Keith Mefford at last week's meeting of the Hanover Town Council.

"I would encourage that because we're starting to pick up a lot of development," said Mefford, who noted that this year there have already been 11 new building permits, which he said is a significant increase considering that there were 30 total last year.

He said the position would provide a means to "do the detail work for the community," which Mefford said will help to move the town forward. He proposed that the position initially be part-time and suggested setting a work session with the town council for further discussion.

In other business, the town council:

- Approved $13,000 to fund new roofs for six building at the sewage treatment plant and three lift stations that Mefford said need replaced. The work will be done by Can Do It Construction. "These will be metal roofs, not shingle. They will last a long time," said Mefford.
- Approved $3,445.97 for two new computers for the city's utilities office in town hall. Mefford said the current computers are 10 years old and due for replacement. With the town's new bill pay system and upgrades to the water meter system, Mefford said the new computers will be "a lot more efficient and productive."
- Approved $15,620 for a new XRipper grinder for the auger at the sewage treatment plant. Without the grinder, the auger gets clogged and jammed, which impacts operation.
- Approved an agreement related to a matching Community Crossing Grant to provide $332,298 for paving town roads.
- Approved an agreement with the State of Indiana to connect the cross walk from the existing sidewalk along Thornton Road to the intersection of State Road 56.
- On third reading, the council approved a new deposit fee rate for utilities customers at $200.

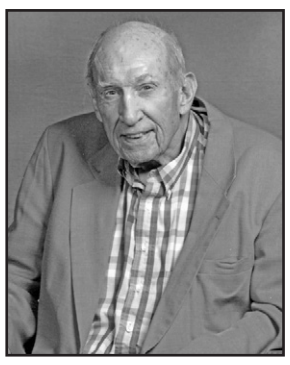
In Loving Memory of

Spencer J. Schnaitter



Spencer J. Schnaitter, age 88, died on January 15, 2021 in Cincinnati, Ohio from complications due to COVID-19. Spence was born in Shelbyville, Indiana on January 21, 1932. He was the second child of Paul R. Schnaitter (Judge of the 5th Judicial Circuit Jefferson/Switzerland County) and Edith Spencer Schnaitter, (English School Teacher of Hanover High School and Primary School Teacher, Eggleston Elementary).

A graduate of Madison High School, Yale University and the Indiana University School of Law (Bloomington), Spence had a notable athletic career, as well as a career in public service for Madison, southeastern Indiana and the entire state. Spence was an Indiana All-Star basketball player, and the starting center of the 1950 Madison State Championship team and the 1949 State Runner-up team. In 1995 he was inducted into the Indiana Basketball Hall of Fame. An accomplished high school pitcher, Spence threw three no-hitters for the Cubs his senior year, still holds that school record, and had offers to play professional baseball. At Yale University he was a three-year starter on the basketball team, was MVP as a junior, team captain and leading scorer as a senior, and two-time all-Ivy League team member. He also played Varsity baseball, was a member of Phi Gamma Delta and the Skull and Bones Society.

Following his graduation from Yale, Spence married Laura Ann Mills on July 25, 1954. Spence and Laura lived in Fort Sill, Oklahoma and Fort Carson, Colorado while he served as an active-duty artillery officer for the US Army. The Schnaitter family relocated to Bloomington, Indiana where he finished law school in June of 1959. During that summer the family moved back to Madison where he practiced law for more than sixty years. He loved the people of the city of Madison and was devoted to serving the local community his entire life.

Spence was elected to five, two-year terms as a Democratic member of the Indiana House of Representatives, from 1962-1963 representing Jefferson and Scott County, and 1973-1980 representing a five-county district including all of Jefferson, parts of Scott, Clark, Switzerland and Jennings Counties. From 1973-1980 he principally served on the House Ways and Means Committee and served as Chairman while Democrats held the majority in the 1975-1976 session. During his time in the Indiana legislature he focused on securing funding for local education, support for the Madison State Hospital, improvements at Clifty Falls State Park, the Lanier Home and local highways. He supported legislation for the creation of Ivy Tech Community College throughout Indiana, particularly in southeastern Indiana with its branch in Madison. Additionally, he steered the legislation that formed the Madison Port Authority, thereby saving the short line rail line between Madison and North Vernon.

Furthermore, Spence served as Senate Parliamentarian from 1991-1999 under Lt. Governors Frank O'Bannon and Joe Kernan. He also served as Legislative Liaison for the Indiana Department of Natural Resources from 1999-2001. In 2001 he received the prestigious Sagamore of the Wabash award from Governor Frank O'Bannon.

In Madison, Spence served as City Attorney for a total of ten years, from 1960-1966 and 1985-1987. He also served as County Attorney three different times for Democratic County Commissioners. He provided legal representation for the Stucker Fork Water Conservancy District from 1966-2020, the Madison Port Authority from 1978-present and the Telegraph Hill Rykers Ridge Regional Sewer District from 1993-present. He had a special knack for local and state history and was often called upon as a resource for historical details.

Spence was preceded in death by his wife Laura of Madison and his sister Carolyn Schnaitter Willis of Naples, Florida. He is survived by his five children: Dwight Schnaitter and wife Suzanne Wilson of Salt Lake City, Utah; Laura Suzanne Schnaitter of Bloomington, Indiana; Spencer M. Schnaitter and wife, Deedra, of Crested Butte, Colorado; Edie Britton and husband, Bloyce, of San Antonio, Texas; and Jason Schnaitter and wife, Lisa Gravelle, of Salt Lake City, Utah. He has seven grandchildren and two step-grandchildren: Paul F. Schnaitter of Fort Collins, Colorado; Elizabeth Schnaitter of Fort Collins, Colorado; Colton Schnaitter of Louisville, Colorado; Hill and Spencer Britton of San Antonio, Texas; Brooke and Dylan Schnaitter of Salt Lake City, Utah; and Sam and Alex Wilson of Salt Lake City, Utah. Spence was also a Great-Grandfather survived by two great grandchildren, Mills and Emmy Schnaitter of Fort Collins, Colorado, as well as a niece, nephew, and numerous grand-nieces and nephews.

In Madison, he was a member of Trinity United Methodist Church, a member of the church choir for many years, and an active member of the Elks Club. Spence was a member of the Jefferson County Bar Association, the Indiana State Bar Association and served on the Jefferson County Cemetery Board. A passionate Democrat, he enjoyed his lifelong association with the Jefferson County Democratic Party and remained active in local politics.

Spence was a loving husband, father, grandfather, uncle, great uncle, and friend. Larger than life, he had a genuine curiosity about others and made friends at every turn no matter where he was. He loved sports, and was a passionate supporter of the Indiana Hoosiers and the Cincinnati Reds. He will be missed by his family, a multitude of friends, and associates across the state.

Due to the COVID-19 pandemic a memorial service and celebration of life will occur later in 2021 when family and friends can safely gather. A private family burial service will take place at Springdale Cemetery. Donations in remembrance of Spence can be made to the Jefferson County Democratic Party, the Indiana Basketball Hall of Fame or the charity of your choice.

Cubs break Rebels' Bucket streak to win Turkey Shootout

Southwestern regroups with big victory over Austin on Saturday

BY DAVID CAMPBELL

The annual Turkey Shootout may have been pushed to Washington's Birthday but it was more than worth the wait for Madison, which broke Southwestern's three-year stranglehold on the Old Oaken Bucket battle with a dominating 61-49 win at home on Friday.

Although Madison beat Southwestern in the Jefferson County Invitational Tournament championship in 2018, the Cubs hadn't won the traditional Turkey Shootout game since 2016. When the final horn sounded and the current group of Cubs got their hands on the Bucket for the first time, they celebrated like they had won the sectional title.

The two schools have played the traditional game the day before Thanksgiving since 1967 but this year's game was pushed back two months in hopes of being able to host a bigger crowd due to the COVID pandemic. While that plan did not materialize, the few fans that were able to attend got to see two teams that entered the game with identical 9-2 records.

It was defense and unselfish play on offense that powered the Cubs to the win. The Cubs clamped down on Southwestern all night, holding the Rebels to just 33% (16-for-48) shooting for the game. On offense, Madison dished out 15 assists on 23 made field goals and shot 51% (23-for-45) from the floor while outrebounding the Rebels 33-22.

It was a combination that easily led to victory.

"Our guys are extremely talented, they really are, and my coaches always tease me saying that we spend too much time on defense," Madison coach Sherron Wilkerson said. "But I just firmly believe that with the guys that we have, that we can be great on defense. We really concentrate on guarding the basketball and rebounding because man, on offense, you can have ups and downs. But if you're defense and rebounding can stay consistent, then you're typically going to have a pretty good chance at the end."

Madison's Luke Ommen (14) shoots over Southwestern's Matthew Williams (34) during Friday's game.

Much of the first half was spent with the two teams feeling each other out. Austin Kramer and Foster Mefford each hit 3-pointers to open the game and stake Southwestern to an early 6-4 lead but Madison got a layup from Jackson Falconberry and a 3-pointer by Luke Miller en route to closing the quarter with a 13-11 lead.

Parker Davis powered his way to the basket for a bucket to give Southwestern its largest lead of the game (18-15) with 4:33 to go in the second period and Williams bombed a three a few minutes later to stake the Rebels to a 21-20 lead with 1:36 left in the half.

But Madison took over in the final minute of the quarter to not only take the lead, but seize the momentum. Luke Ommen hit two shots in the paint and Falconberry put in a shot with two seconds to go to give the Cubs a 26-21 advantage at the break.

That small mini-run proved to be the turning point. The Cubs opened the third on fire, getting eight points each by Ommen and Falconberry to push the lead to 11 (34-23) less than three minutes into the quarter. Southwestern briefly slashed the lead to nine on a Mefford bucket, but Kaden Oliver answered with two free throws for the Cubs and the lead never dropped under double-digits again.

"This week our focus was to give up a good shot for a great shot and if you can do that, you're going to have high percentages. And from that point, let the chips fall where they may," Wilkerson said. "We've done a really good job of adjusting on what a good shot is to what a great shot is and, man, they've become very unselfish. This is the mantra we've been pushing."

Once the lead reached double-digits, Southwestern had little chance of coming back. An inability to hit shots, even when they were open, doomed the Rebels as they fell behind by as many as 17 (54-37) before mounting a small rally at the end to make the final score closer.

For Southwestern coach Zac Nussbaum, watching his offense struggle has been, unfortunately, all too common. While the Rebels are capable of putting up huge scoring numbers, there are nights when it seems like everybody is struggling at the same time.

"I thought we were pretty good defensively, especially in the first half, but when you get a lead like that, it's easier to spread our defense out," Nussbaum said. "(Madison) is a good team. We knew that it was going to be a monumental effort to guard them. We've just got to figure out the offensive side right now. I felt like we were getting good shots and getting shots that we normally make, they just weren't going down."

Ommen finished the game with 21 points to lead all scorers and did so on just 10 shots, a remarkable show of efficiency. He also had seven rebounds while battling Williams down low most of the night.

Miller scored 17 points while Falconberry had arguably his best overall game as a varsity player, scoring 14 points and pulling down seven rebounds. Oliver scored seven points and had five rebounds while Nick Center was held scoreless, but the senior had six rebounds and six assists on the night.

Mefford scored 15 points and Kramer had 13 to lead Southwestern while Williams finished with nine points and six rebounds. Zach Cole powered his way to seven points on the inside.

The Rebels bounced right back on Saturday with a 98-80 win over sectional foe Austin at home on what was supposed to be homecoming. Due to COVID restrictions, the homecoming ceremony has been moved to an as yet-to-be-determined date.

Five different players scored in double figures for the Rebels, who shot 62% (36-for-58) for the game, including 13-of-25 (52%) on 3-point attempts. Mefford had an impressive double-double of 20 points and 12 assists while also grabbing seven steals and four rebounds. Billy Eccles scored 19 points and had eight rebounds, Williams had 16 points, Kramer had 14 points and six assists, and Cole had 13 points and five rebounds.

Madison, now 10-2 on the season, was scheduled to play at Floyd Central on Friday but that game was postponed to Feb. 12 due to COVID-19 concerns at Floyd. Madison will next host Class 3A No. 3 — and defending state champion — Silver Creek on Friday before heading to North Harrison on Saturday.

Southwestern, now 10-3 on the season, hosts Milan on Friday and Mitchell on Saturday.

IHSAA TOURNAMENT DRAW

Madison to host girls sectional for 1st time

BY COURIER STAFF REPORT

The draw for the 2021 IHSAA Girls Basketball State Tournament was held on Sunday in Indianapolis.

For the first time in school history, Madison will host a girls sectional tournament when the Class 3A event kicks off. The tournament was scheduled to be held at North Harrison, but due to COVID restrictions in Harrison County, games were moved to Madison.

Oddly enough, Madison will face North Harrison in the opening round of the tournament. The two teams will also play today at North Harrison.

The Class 2A Sectional will be held at South Ripley. Southwestern will face Milan in the opening round with the winner getting Switzerland County in the semifinals.

The Class A Sectional will be at Edinburgh. Shawe drew the bye but will have to take on Class A No. 1 Trinity Lutheran in the semifinals.

Trimble returns to form in win over Western Hills

BY DAVID CAMPBELL

It took a half, but Trimble County finally started playing the way coach Kerrie Stewart wanted it to play and the result was a 59-30 win over winless Western Hills at home in girls basketball on Saturday.

Trimble County started the game quite well, blowing out to an 18-2 lead before the first quarter had elapsed. But the Raiders were outscored 18-13 over the next eight-plus minutes and led "only" 31-20 at halftime.

But Trimble got its act together in the second half, outscoring the Wolverines 28-10 over the final 16 minutes to cruise to the win.

The Raiders (3-5) found themselves in a tight game because they weren't sharp on offense and gave up too many second chances. That all changed in the second half.

"I thought the third quarter was a big turning point for us. I thought we came out with a different mentality than we saw in the second quarter," Stewart said. "We came out, decided we were going to take care of business, got a little more aggressive defensively, without fouling."

Not committing fouls was the key to Trimble's success and the main reason why Western Hills was able to stay in the game for a half. The Wolverines went to the foul line 14 times in the first half alone — and hit 11 of them — and used those freebies to keep Trimble within reach.

Western Hills (0-5) still ended up going 13-for-25 at the free-throw line in the game, but many of those fouls in the second half came late after the game was decided.

"We were picking up tick-tack fouls because we were wanting to reach and were getting antsy and instead we needed to keep our gaps, keep our spacing, and keep our hands active," Stewart said. "Do the little things because when we do the little things, we're pretty good. And when we don't, we're as bad as they come."

Senior Shelby Wilcoxson scored 26 points to lead all scorers and picked up a key milestone by scoring her 1,287th career point. That total allowed her to move into fifth place in the school's career scoring list, passing her mother, Jessica (Peniston) Wilcoxson.

Trimble County's Danielle Craig passes to teammate Addison Edmondson during a win over Western Hills at home on Saturday.

Southwestern swimmers 2nd at Anderson Invite

BY COURIER STAFF REPORT

Southwestern's swim teams picked up five individual or relay wins in the Rebels' own Red Anderson Invitational on Saturday.

The Rebels finished second to South Ripley's 102 with a combined 79 points on the day while Scottsburg was third with 75, Henryville fourth with 72, Switzerland County fifth with 69 and Rising Sun sixth with 51.

Scottsburg and South Ripley finished tied for first in the girls meet with 60 points followed by Southwestern (53), Rising Sun (49), Switzerland County (41) and Henryville (22). Henryville won the boys meet with 50 points followed by South Ripley (42), Switzerland County (28), Southwestern (26), Scottsburg (15) and Rising Sun (2).

Belle Crawford led the charge for the Lady Rebels, winning two individual events and a relay in the girls meet.

Crawford won the 200-yard freestyle in 2:21.02 and the 100 backstroke in 1:10.78 while Julia Worcester won the 100 butterfly in 1:15.61. Crawford and Worcester then teamed with Amiah Owen and Audrey Bare to win the 200 medley relay in 2:20.38.

Southwestern's Ethan Besse scored a win in the boys 100 backstroke in 1:06.23 for the Rebels' lone win on the boys side.

For Switzerland County, Adrian Armstrong won both the boys 50 freestyle in 24.05 and the 100 freestyle in 53.01 while the Pacers' Nathan Furnish won the boys 200 freestyle in 2:07.89. Switzerland's Kaelin Taylor won the girls 500 freestyle in 6:33.20.

Other top finishes for the Southwestern girls were: Worcester, second, 200 IM, 2:34.52; Crawford, Bare, Owen and Worcester, third, 400 free relay, 4:40.05; Owen, fourth, 100 breast, 1:35.99 and fifth, 50 free, 32.24; and Bare, seventh, 200 free, 2:56.11 and eighth, 100 free, 1:21.09.

Other top finishes for the Switzerland girls were: Taylor, second, 200 free, 2:26.30; Alisha Detmer, second, 500 free, 6:55.14 and fifth, 200 free, 2:37.75; Ava Cole, third, 200 free, 2:31.13 and third, 500 free, 6:58.83; Detmer, Cole, Taylor and Carly Bennett, third, 200 medley relay, 2:31.83 and fourth, 400 free relay, 4:42.41; and Bennett, eighth, 50 free, 34.76 and ninth, 100 free, 1:22.65.

Other top finishes for the Southwestern boys were: Caleb Geary, 200 IM, 2:26.43 and third, 100 free, 56.05; Besse, third, 50 free, 26.13; and Andrew Stoner, third, 100 back, 1:19.46 and fifth, 50 free, 31.27.

Other top finishes for the Switzerland boys were: Furnish, second, 100 free, 54.12; and Evan Bosaw, sixth, 50 free, 32.35 and sixth, 100 free, 1:15.95.

Southwestern hosts Scottsburg and New Washington today and then heads to Vevay on Saturday for the Switzerland County Invitational. Switzerland heads to Lawrenceburg on Wednesday before hosting the Invitational on Saturday.

HIGH SCHOOL BASKETBALL ROUNDUP

Nutley's triple-double leads Madison in blowout victory

Switzerland girls notch 16th win

BY COURIER STAFF REPORT

Jade Nutley recorded a triple-double and Madison put four players in double figures as the Cubs rolled over South Dearborn 91-22 at home on Saturday afternoon.

Nutley, a 6-foot-1 senior, scored 11 points, pulled down 10 rebounds and had 11 assists in the win. The Indiana Wesleyan-bound Nutley also had seven steals in one of the most impressive lines in school history.

Fellow senior Lundun Perry also had her best game of the season, scoring 20 points on 7-of-11 shooting while Daesja Jay had 17 points and senior Chloe Ferris scored a career-high 15 points. Cameran Cahall added eight points and Cadence Traylor seven for the Cubs.

Breonna Burton, Zoe Ross and Rylee Theis scored four points to lead South Dearborn.

The 91 points are the fifth-most ever scored by Madison in a single game and the highest total since hanging 105 on Charlestown in the 2000-01 season. The 69-point margin is the Cubs' second-biggest behind that aforementioned 105-28 win over Charlestown.

Stephanie Hellmann

Madison's Jade Nutley, shown playing against Silver Creek two weeks ago, recorded her first career triple-double in the Cubs' win over South Dearborn on Saturday.

Madison, now 9-10 on the season and winners of five of its last six, travels to sectional foe North Harrison today and then travels to Class A No. 1 Trinity Lutheran on Thursday. Madison has beaten Trinity Lutheran each of the last two years, including 55-36 last year when the Cougars were also ranked No. 1 in Class A. Madison then wraps up the regular season at home against Southwestern on Saturday.

PACERS BEAT COUGARS FOR 16TH WIN

Switzerland County girls basketball picked up its 16th win of the season 59-45 at South Decatur on Saturday afternoon.

Maddie Duvall had 18 points, four steals and three rebounds to lead the Pacers while Keirstan Oeffinger had 15 points, three steals and three assists. Jessie Duvall added 12 points, eight assists and five steals and Nora Hankins had seven points and four rebounds.

Switzerland, now 16-4 on the season, has matched its most wins in a season since the 2015-16 campaign when the Pacers went 16-8. Switzerland wraps up the regular season with a pair of Ohio River Valley Conference road games, today at Rising Sun and on Thursday at South Ripley.

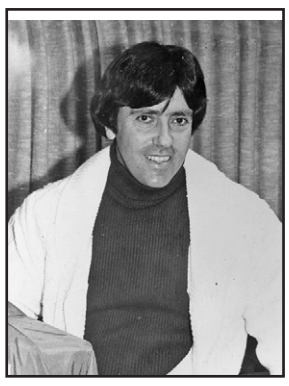
In Loving Memory of

Robert E. Clapp



Mr. Robert E. Clapp, age 77, of Madison, Indiana, and the son of the late Roy E. and Visa (Egerton) Clapp, was born on February 20, 1943, in Madison, Indiana. He was united in marriage to the former Sarah Johnson and served in the United States Army as a Green Beret during the Vietnam Conflict. He worked security for the federal building in Louisville, Kentucky and later at King's Daughters' Hospital in Madison. He attended River Valley Community Church and was a proud supporter of military charities. In his spare time, he loved his horse, Playboy, worked with exotic animals, and had a pet tiger, "GT." Mr. Clapp passed away January 19, 2021 at Hosparus Health Inpatient Care in Louisville, KY.

His life will be cherished by his wife, Sarah of Madison; his cousins: Lena Perkinsson, Linberg Taylor (Barbara), Valinda McCarty, Joe Perkinson (Traci), Vicky Rand (Rick), Patti Mitchell (Jim), Terry Taylor (Kathy), Gary Taylor (Mary), Ronnie Taylor (Elyse), Debbie Simmons (Steve), Keith Colbert (Becky), Linnatta Dowling (Greg), Yeoman Taylor (Dee), Timmy Taylor (Michelle), Charles Egerton, and Donald Egerton; and many additional loving cousins and friends. He was preceded in death by his parents; and several aunts, uncles, and cousins.

Pastor Shane Brunner will conduct memorial services at 1:00 PM Tuesday, January 26, 2021 at Lytle Welty Funeral Homes & Cremation Service, Vail Chapel, on Madison's hilltop with interment to follow in Moffett Cemetery in Milton, Kentucky. Friends and family may call at the Lytle Welty Funeral Homes & Cremation Service, Vail Chapel from 12:00 PM until the time of the service on Tuesday.

The family requests memorial contributions be made to the Wounded Warriors Project and the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals (ASPCA). Contributions may be made at the Lytle Welty Funeral Home or at lytlewelty.com/ below.

HANOVER ROUNDUP

Volleyball opens delayed season with pair of sweeps vs. Defiance

BY COURIER STAFF REPORT

Hanover College finally opened its long-delayed volleyball season with a pair of straight-set wins over Defiance at home on Saturday.

The Panthers won the first match 25-18, 26-24, 25-20 and the second match 25-21, 26-24, 25-16.

Women's volleyball is traditionally a fall sport but Hanover and most of the Heartland Collegiate Athletic Conference opted to shift their seasons to the spring during the COVID-19 pandemic and play a conference-only schedule.

In the first match, Adrianne Vance led Hanover with 11 kills while Emma McPeek had eight kills and a block, Maddie Edwards had seven kills, three blocks and an ace, Kelsey Ketcham had 26 assists, 11 digs and an ace, and Amber Miller had 15 digs and six assists.

In the second match, Abigail Edds had eight kills, Harmon had seven kills and 11 digs, Ketcham had 16 assists and 12 digs, Aubrey Walton had 12 assists and Miller had 20 digs.

Hanover, now 2-0 in the HCAC, heads to Mount St. Joseph for two matches on Wednesday and to Manchester for a pair on Saturday.

HANOVER MEN FALL AT ROSE

Hanover College men's basketball lost its second game to Rose-Hulman in three days, 86-62 in Terre Haute on Saturday.

The Panthers fell behind early and trailed by 20 (47-27) at halftime and never recovered to fall to 2-2 overall and 2-0 in the Heartland Collegiate Athletic Conference.

Ty Houston led the Panthers with 13 points but was the only player on the team in double figures. Max Greenamoyer had nine points while Mark Albers and Brice Gilman scored seven each.

Dillon Duff and Samvit Ram scored 16 points each to lead Rose-Hulman.

Hanover returns to action on Thursday when it hosts Franklin at Collier Arena for the first of two games. The second game will be on Saturday at Franklin.

Horse has left the barn

ANNIE LANE
DEAR ANNIE

Dear Readers: A number of you wrote in concerned about the woman who is Living With Scrooge, the husband who has plenty of money but keeps his wife on a tight budget and makes her life miserable. I suggested marriage counseling, which many readers agreed with, but an equal number feel that the horse has left the barn and I should have advised her to run for the hills. I would agree if there were an issue of physical safety, but that was not the case. Still, I find alternative opinions to be interesting and wanted to share some with you.

Dear Annie: Pease get back to this lady. By the tone of her letter and what was left unsaid, I'm sure she is being emotionally, and even perhaps physically, abused. I would definitely suggest that this lady leave Scrooge as soon as possible. She is suffering, and God knows what her insides (heart, liver and brain) must be like, slowly dying as well.

My sister died at 65 because she didn't leave such a horrible man. Please, suggest that she leave now. If she stays, it will only get worse.

I have no accreditation in this field, but I know a bad situation when I read about it. Thanks, Annie. — You Do So Much Good

Dear Annie: I agree with your comment that dwelling on her daughter-in-law is a waste of time and energy. However, I believe that Living With Scrooge should seek the advice of an attorney rather than a marriage counselor at this point.

The reader said nothing about having any affection for her husband and admitted that she made a huge mistake by marrying him. She needs to find out what the property division laws are in her state, and what assets her husband actually has, rather than depending on hearsay and snooping. — Reader in New Mexico

Dear Annie: This lady does not need a marriage counselor. She needs a very strong divorce lawyer! Both must work together to find where his assets are located, i.e., bank accounts, investments and the like.

I am not familiar with the laws in Las Vegas and what she would be entitled to receive, but she is legally married to him and should be entitled to something.

A petition for divorce should be filed as well as a document freezing all his assets.

This is a marriage that is not worth saving under the circumstances described by her. It is toxic; she is treated poorly by her husband and the family, and she is dying inside. What is there to save? It is time for her to move forward.

I send my prayers to her and wish her the very best. — That Marriage Is Over

Dear Readers: Thank you for your insights and suggestions. You make good points, though I am hopeful the marriage can be salvaged through marriage counseling if he goes with her. Remember, the woman who wrote in had her own job, bought her own house and was able to support herself before allowing Scrooge to change her life. If he refuses to go, then I agree that finding a good attorney to protect her would be the next logical step.

Lucky number seven

ANNIE LANE
DEAR ANNIE

Dear Annie: I am recently engaged and very excited to plan my wedding with my fiance. I am also excited to have my best friends stand by my side on my special day.

However, there has been a lot of stress when trying to determine who should be standing by me. For my fiance, he already has his seven groomsmen picked out, and he doesn't want to add any more, to avoid having too many people on the altar. For me, I originally narrowed my bridal party to seven, which includes my best friends from each stage of life (elementary school, middle school, high school, college and medical school) in addition to my two sisters.

Two of my high school friends have recently asked me and the rest of my high school group (of our parties — no more and no less. In addition, one of the girls in my high school friend group is currently in my bridal party since I am closest to her, but I don't have room for the other two.

I don't want to cause drama or hard feelings, but I also am happy with my current bridal party selection. What should I do? — Something Blue

Dear Something Blue: If you are happy with your current bridal party and you and your fiance already agreed to the number, then by all means keep it that way. While I applaud your consideration for your friends and your politeness in wanting to reciprocate by making them bridesmaids, you have to do what is best for you and your fiance.

However, just because you don't make your two friends bridesmaids doesn't mean you can't make them feel special at your wedding. Maybe they could participate in the wedding as a reader. The most important thing is to communicate to them exactly what you communicated in your letter. Once they know how much you want them at your wedding, but you have two sisters and your best friends from each stage of life in the party, they will understand. Congratulations on your upcoming nuptials.

Dear Annie: The letter from "What Did You Say" about background music on TV shows being too loud is so true!

My husband and I have lost count of how many shows or movies we don't finish because the music drowns out the dialogue. I even thought of writing to the producers of the shows directly to see what their response would be and if it would help at all. The investigative shows, such as 20/20 and 48 Hours, are among the worst offenders. No matter how interesting the previews sound, we don't even bother trying to watch them anymore.

Unfortunately, my TV is not a 2020 model and does not have a "clear voice" audio setting, but I will definitely look for that option when it comes time to replace our television.

Keep background music in the background. — It's Too Loud

Dear Too Loud: Thank you for sharing your experience with this issue, and by printing your letter, amongst others, you have written to the producers because they will no doubt be made aware of this problem.

ROUNDUP

PANTHERS USE FTS TO BEAT GALLATIN

Carroll County girls basketball cleaned up at the free-throw line and pulled away to beat Gallatin County 59-47 on the road in a conference and league contest on Friday.

The Panthers went 28-for-41 (68%) from the line, led by junior Jordyn Shepherd, who was 13-of-17 for the night. Those free points were more than enough to power Carroll to its second-straight win and third in the past four games.

Shepherd finished with 22 points to lead all scorers while Reagan Matthews had a double-double of 14 points and 13 rebounds. Madie Hicks scored nine points and Courtney Strickland scored eight.

Carroll, now 3-5 overall and 1-2 in both the North Central Kentucky Conference and the 31st District, hosted South Oldham on Monday. The Panthers next travel to Williamstown on Wednesday and hosts Henry County on Friday.

JENNINGS SCORES 34 IN TRIMBLE LOSS

Trimble County boys basketball suffered a 77-70 loss at Woodford County on Saturday but Dylan Jennings scored a career-high 34 points to lead the Raiders.

Trimble, now 1-6 on the season, travels to South Oldham today and hosts Dayton on Thursday.

SHAWE GIRLS FALL TO RIPLEY

Shawe girls basketball lost to South Ripley 53-18 on the road on Saturday.

The Hilltoppers, now 1-5 overall and 0-4 ORVC, hosted Milan on Monday and host Christian Academy of Indiana today. The Hilltoppers wrap up the regular season on Thursday at home against Rising Sun.

HILLTOPPERS LOSE TO COLUMBUS

Shawe's losing streak in boys basketball reached seven games with a 63-41 setback to Columbus Christian at home on Friday.

The Hilltoppers, now 1-7 on the season, host Rising Sun on Friday and travel to Providence on Saturday.

TRIMBLE

Only one other Raider, reached double figures with freshman Addison Edmondson scoring 11 points, with sophomore Emma Ginn scoring eight points and senior Emma Horn adding six points.

While Stewart was pleased to have another big game by her star, she knows that she needs more scoring from the rest of the team if the Raiders are going to be successful.

"We've got kids that can absolutely score and take the pressure off of Shelby. Shelby is going to make them better and they are going to make Shelby better," Stewart said. "We all get that understanding of what we are capable of doing and once we start doing that, we're going to be pretty good. But sometimes right now, when we miss that first shot we pass up the next three and we can't do that."

On Friday, Trimble suffered a 64-39 loss at South Oldham. Wilcoxson scored 16 points to lead the Raiders while Peyton Butters scored 10, Edmondson had eight and Gracie Jent added three.

"We played very lethargic. South played zone and we were content to stand around. We did not look to attack," Stewart said. "Some picked up the effort in the second half, but as a team, we were very complacent and our effort was not what we are willing to accept."

Trimble County returns to action today when it takes on district favorite Owen County on the road. The Raiders then play another district foe on Wednesday when they travel to Gallatin County and wrap up the week at Williamstown on Saturday.
